Six steers were killed outright and six were fatally infared. There was no whitness to the accident, but the demolished engine, the broken tender, the splintered remnants of ten cars, and the terribly mutilated cattle, mutely testify to the horror of the accident and indigate that the engineer had on a full head of steam, either to overcome the heavy grade or to clear the track of the cattle.

D. B. HILL'S DEMOCRACY

HE ASKS FOR A FAIR TEST OF THE PRESENT TARIFF BILL.

The Duties Were Imposed for the Purpose of Revenue and Not for Fostering Private Interests.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 .- One of the largest mass-meetings ever held in this city crowded Cooper Union to-night. The meeting was held under the auspices of the State Democratic Committee, and the principal speaker of the evening was Senator David B. Hill.

The chairman of the evening, Frederick R. Coudert, then introduced Senator Hill. who received an ovation lasting several minutes. When the cheering and handchapping had finished sufficiently to allow minutes. When the cheering and handclapping had finished sufficiently to allow his voice to be heard, Senator Hill began his address.

The Senator began by paying his respects to Watner Miller, who, he said, was like his party in many respects, absolately without fixed principle.

The principles of the Democratic party are so pain and explicit that they do not need to be avoided. My party's principles are my own, and in their presentation on this occasion I assume that I speak by its authority as well as in its behalf. I nave no apologies to make for them, I defend those principles because I believe in them.
The tariff bill enacted in 183 by the Democratic party went into effect on August 25, 129, and thus has been in operation only a little over one year. That time has not been ample to determine its value and usefulness. We ask the people to be patient in order that the measure may have a fair test.

No new tariff law can demonstrate its capacity within a single year's trial, and no sensible man should expect otherwise.
The difficulty is that the country has not yet recovered from the far-reaching, injurious effects of the terrille panic of 183, caused by the Republican-Sherman silver act of 1250, passed by Republicans over the vote of every Democrat in Congress. This fact, however, cannot escape observation, and that is, that the moment that the McKinley act was repealed and the new tarriff law enactedAugust 25, 183¹ the times began to improve, and have continued to imrove ever since—slowly it may be, but surely,
safely, and satisfactorily.

What the business interests of New

safely, and satisfactorily.

INDUSTRIAL P ACE.

What the business interests of New York require at this time is industrial peace. Benewed tariff agitation can serve no useful purpose, because no legislation hostile to the principal features of the present law can possibly be enact? ed until after March 4, 1897, the expiration of the term of the present executive.

ed until after March 4, 18%, the expiration of the term of the present executive.

It is folly to atempt; it is unwise to advocate it. A visit to any manufacturing town in this State will convince the most skeptical that the practical operation of the new tariff is reasonably satisfactory. Some are working day and night, others are working in arely over time, wages are being increased, and new operatives are being increased. If our opponents really desire to present tariff versus a return to the McKiniev law, we shall be welcome that issue and shall have no fears of the result.

While the election of no federal officials (except a congressmanth a single district), are involved in this State election, the moral effect of the election of the Democratic State ticket will be an assured security to the manufacturers business men, farmers, and workingmen of the State, that a crusade in favor of substantial tariff changes will not be attempted. No one should be heard to object that the duties upon the necessaries of life were either removed or largely reduced in the existing laws.

The average general reduction in tariff taxes was about 231-3 per cent, from those in the McKinicy law, and it is barely possible that considering the revenues, which now seem to be needed by the Government, a less reduction would have been preferable, but that fact is not by any means conceded and time alone can determine it.

This much may be safely stated: That

The principle of no public taxes except or public purposes has been endeavored to be preserved. Undue anxiety for the tax-payers may uit this much can be said, that it was of responsible for the Sherman silver its. That law was Republican in its useption, in its enception, in its enception, in its enception, in its enception, in its enception. The President called an extra session of Congress to secure its repeal, and after long and weary struggle a Democratic congress wiped it out, and it no ionger xists. Personal liberty, the Senator said, was personal liberty, the Senator said, was no of the principal issues involved in the State campaign, and upon this text be denounced the New York city Police Commissioners for their strict, narrow, and arbitrary interpretation of the Suniay liquor laws.

The Senator concluded as follows:
Fellow-Democrats, the moral effect of a Democratic victory in this State cannot be over-estimated. It will pave the way or the great contest of 1995 and make our truggle easier. The Democracy of other states are watching our battle with increst, hoping that the great Empire State will once more take her oid place in the bemocratic column. Let us not disapondnt them. Let us be true to our country our party, and ourselves, and victory vill crown our efforts. Let New York et he Star in the East' for the encourgement of the Democracy of the nation.

LEXINGTON, KY, Oct. 23.—The auditorium was well filled with Democratic to-night to listen to W. P. Hardin, Democratic candidate for Governor, make his first speech in this city since the campaign opened.

In all his former campaigns General Hardin has been aggressive, but to-night he was on the defensive from the beginning to the ending of his speech. He defended himself from the charges made by his opponent, Colonel Bradley, and begged the Democrats to vote for straight ticket in November.

The most significant sentence that he untered was this:

"If I am defeated and the balance of the ticket is elected, the Democratic party is disintegrated; if I am elected and the balance of the ticket is defeated the party is disintegrated."

Martin divined the purpose of their visit, and as Schultz attempted to arrest him he pulled out a revolver and shot the Marshal through the head, killing him instantly.

Policeman Sweeney immediately grappled with the murderer, and succeeded in wresting the revolver from him and placing hand-cuffs upon his wrists.

Sweeney then placed his brother officer's corpse in a buggy, and with Martin incustody, drove back to Tiffin and lodged the murderer in the county fall.

He resigned his commission December 29, 1846, and prepared himself for orders in the Episcopal Church, to which he was admitted about the year 1859. His longest and best service was performed as rector of St. Michael's church, of which church and parish he became as much a part as the stones in the floor or the bells in the steeple. He served as rector until about two years ago, when he was accidentally disqualified for further active pastoral work.

SPAIN'S EMERGENCY NAVY

Preparing to Attack on the High Seas Vessels of Any Country Recognizing Cube. LONDON, Oct. 23.-The Central News has a dispatch from Madrid, saying that the Government has decided upon the arming of several of the Spanish trans-Atlantic companies' deamers, and the conversion of the old cruisers, Namancia and Victoria, into modern war-ships.

The steamers Reina, Maria, Cristina, Leon XIII., Alfonso XII., Alfonso XII., Montevideo, and Pdso Trustegui, will be armed with fourteen centin etre guns by the beginning of December, and will be sent to Cuba. This action on the part of the Government is generally regarded as a preparatory measure against the recognition of the insurgents as felligerents by any American government.

It is accepted as a certainty that Spain would regard such recognition on the part of any government as a viciation of international law, and would imagdiately place the nation upon a war footing, and authorize Spanish vesses to capture upon the seas merchantmen belonging to the nation so recognizing the insurgents.

The general question of a bicycle ordinance was fully discussed, and the sentiment was strongly in favor of an ordinance that would protect the reputation of bicyclers as a whole against the few reckless riders, who alone violate the ordinary rules of care towards the general public, and also define the privileses and restrictions of bicycles in the public thoroughfares.

The toard were almost unanimously in favor of a requirement compelling the use of lamps at night, but there was a division of opinion as to the efficacy of bells, some experienced riders holding that they are productive of accidents, rather than being a safeguard to foot-passengers. A committee was appointed to confer with the City Attorney on the subject of ordinances generally.

The question of petitioning the City Council for the paving of a strip on Bread street with material suitable for a bicycle path was discussed, and a resolution was and needs of the league in the wishes and needs of the league in the wishes and needs of the league on wheels was appointed for next Saturday week at 4.35 o'clock, and the matter received the most enthusiastic endorsement. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—General Thomas Ewing, of Onto, the distinguished lawyer and physician, was physically prostrated in the Supreme Court of the United States yesterday afternoon while arguing the case of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York against the Chicago, Portage, and Superior Railway Company. He had not been well for several days, and the strain imposed by the exertion of speaking was too great. Remedies were applied and in a short time he was so far recovered that, accompanied by Mrs. Ewing, he was driven to his hetel.

Beyond a slight delay occasioned by the removal of the speaker to the Marshals room, there was no interruntion of the proceedings of the court, the argument for the trust company being taken up and concluded by Mr. Miller I. Fouchard, exocfate counsel. It was noted as a singular colonidecace by Mr. Justice Field and some of the older attches of the court that General Ewing should have been overcome almost in he same spot and under the same circumstances as his father, the venerable Thomas Ewing, Sr., on the 22d of October, 1820.

A Spat Between Gary and Tillman.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 22.—At the night session the fight was resumed between the new and the anti-new county advocates, and the convention was in session until very near midnight. It was bractically settled that no new bounty should run nearer to an old county should run nearer to an old county couri-house than eight miles. During the evenling Senator Irby caused a litte flutter by asserting that no power could keep him from entering the hall when a vote was being taken.

F. B. Gary and Senator Tillman had a warm passage at arms, in which Gary told Tillman, if he would repeat his language outside the hall, he would resent it as gentlemen usually resented such things. The announcement was made later in the aight that the matter had been amicably arranged. are Completing the Arrangements.

Judging from the manner in which the arrangements are progressing for the Bazaar which will be held for two weeks, beginning November 4th, at the Regimental Armory and Sanger Hall, the affair will be a great success and secure a handsome amount for the Virginia Home for Incurables.

The ladies having the matter in charge have organized very thoroughly, and the business-like way in which their meetings are conducted, with Miss Ruby Bodeker presiding over them, and Mrs. James H. Barton as secretary, is very promising of carnest effort. Gratifying progress is now reported from all committees having the details of the Bazaar in charge.

Some few days ago the chief and other members of the Richmond Fire Department visited Atlanta, and on their return, commented upon the Fire Deportment and City Waser Works of that city, and showing how helpiess Atlanta woold be in the event of a conflueration.

"The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin," says in regard to the Louis Wellhouse fire, that occurred a few days after the above comment:

"Advices received from Atlanta, Ga., give the information that that city was without water at the time of the Louis Wellhouse fire. The city water main burst the preceding day and the water was cut off the night of the fire and consequently Atlanta was without water. This is the second time within the past three years that fires of importance have occurred which would have been small but for the fact that the water was shut off and consequently the services of the fire department were rendered almost useful season of the fire department were rendered almost useful season of the specially bad blocks, as otherwise the destruction of a large portion of Atlanta might bave lollowed.

"This brings to mind the creumstance also that the rates in Atlanta are the lowest and poorest made in the South, and that all the poorer risks are rated lower in that city than they would be rated anywhere else in the country. Some time since the Executive Committee of the S. E. T. A., were requested to revise the Atlanta rates, but they declined doing so."

Before a large audience, and under considerable disadvantage, Warde last night presented his new play, "Runnymede." Owing to the sudden illness of Albert C. Deliwyn, a prominent member of the company, who was taken sick after the performance Tuesday night, several changes in the cast were rendered necessary.

Warde was billed for the character of Cedric, a Saxon Thane, otherwise Friat Tuck, but he had to take that of Stephen Langton, the Cardinal, while charles Herman took the character of Friat Tuck. There were several other changes in the east. Making allowance for even these irregularities, one fact suil rein the cast.
